SOMERSET Pa. (AP) — Ret. Army Capt. Thomas F. Darcy Jr., who played taps for the first American soldier killed in World War I, died Sunday from injuries suffered in an automobile crash, Darcy, 73, conducted the U. S. Army Band from 1935 to 1940.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Joseph C. O'Heaney, 70, retired newspaperman who reported the slaying of gangster Jack (Legs) Diamond in an Albany rooming house, died Sunday. WASHINGTON (AP) — Illegitimate children are entitled to equal treatment by the law, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The 6-3 decision bars Louisiana from blocking damage suits that involved illegitimate children.

Beyond that, Justice William O. Douglas' opinion for the court seems to erect a barrier against anti-illegitimacy laws in general.

Douglas said: "Illegitimate children are not non persons, they are humans, live and have their being. They are clearly persons within the meaning of the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment."

Officer Was Arrested on DWI Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Police Director Ralph Scott said Sunday night that he placed the commander of the highway patrol on sick leave one month ago because the officer had been arrested in Missouri and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Scott said that on April 15 he received a copy of a teletyped message from Missouri authorities in which he learned that Maj. Kenneth McKee had been arrested.

"Immediately upon my receipt of this information, I issued a directive placing Maj. McKee on sick leave," Scott said.

The director made the remarks about McKee in a prepared statement released late Sunday and handcarried to news media by a state trooper. Sidney Roberts, who filed to oppose Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in the Republican gubernatorial primary election, said Saturday that he had asked Scott to explain "the mysterious events surrounding the so-called leave of absence" of McKee.

Scott said he was issuing the statement "in an effort to remove the Arkansas State Police as a subject for political speculation."

At the same time, Scott also released a two-page memo to department employees warning them that he would recommend the dismissal of anyone violating a section of a 1945 law that prohibits state policemen from becoming involved in political activities.

"My reluctance to make a statement has been motivated completely by a desire to save Maj. McKee from embarrassment," Scott said. "I will take the same position in any disciplinary situation with any employee."

Scott said he immediately placed McKee on sick leave and that Rockefeller had already made tentative arrangements for McKee to undergo medical evaluation because of persistent and periodic migraine headaches suffered by McKee.

The governor told newsmen last week that McKee had undergone a neurological examination and found McKee to be in excellent health.

"The medical report obviously eliminated from consideration any possibility that Maj. McKee could receive a medical discharge based on a service connected disability, a possible solution that had suggested itself to me at the outset," Scott said.

Supreme Court today made the federal constitutional right to a jury trial in criminal cases binding on the states.

The historic 7-2 decision, given by Justice Byron R. White, said:

"Because we believe that trial by jury in criminal cases is fundamental to the American system of justice, we hold that the 14th Amendment guarantees a right of jury trial in all criminal cases which—were they to be tried in a federal court—would come within the 6th Amendment's guarantee."

Speaking to a crowded courtroom, White declared: "We insist that the right to demand jury trials in serious cases, whether exercised or not, is one that the states should respect."

Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart dissented. Harlan complained that the 14th Amendment is "being made the vehicle for putting the heavy hand of this court on all sorts of practices which hitherto it had been thought proper for the states to have, and to have varied."

The ruling was given in a Louisiana case, The Louisiana Constitution grants jury trials only in cases in which capital punishment or imprisonment at hard labor may be imposed.

The Supreme Court acted on an appeal by Gary Duncan, a 21-year-old Negro convicted of simple battery in Plaquemine Parish, Louisiana, and sentenced to 60 days in jail and $150 fine.

The Boothville tugboat skipper was accused of slapping a white boy on the elbow. He could have been sent to jail for two years and fined $300.

The 6th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees trial by jury "in all criminal prosecutions." However, in 1900 the court held it is not binding on the states. Thus it has been a requirement only in federal cases.

Thirty-eight states guarantee a right to trial by jury equal or greater than the right secured in federal courts under the 6th Amendment. In the 12 others, less than federal standards are observed.

Rotary Club Told About Nat'l Guard

Prior to Armed Forces Day, May 18, Colonel Homer H. Hayden of the Arkansas National Guard spoke to the Hope Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting in the Town and Country Friday, May 17. He explained the two-fold purpose of the National Guard is 1.) to assist in combating civil disorders and natural disasters during peacetime, and 2.) to join in the defense of our country during wartime.

"During the past year $27,000 in state and federal funds have been brought into Hope through the local National Guard unit," Col. Hayden said. "But the services the unit renders or is prepared to render exceed the monetary returns." We have two officers and 78 enlisted men.

Giving facts about the Guard, the speaker said there are a total of 8,700 men in the Army and Air Guards in Arkansas with a supporting force of 700 civilian employees. Also, the annual expenditure of federal funds for the Guard is $11 million in Arkansas, and the state provides approximately $800,000.

Under the leadership of General Charles H. Wilson, the Arkansas National Guard has an Open Door policy in regard to the public knowing the facts about it. The speaker concluded by saying, "Your National Guard is ready when it is needed."

The program was arranged by Vic Cobb, who introduced the speaker. President Clyde Fouse welcomed visiting Rotarians, Ben Harding of Prescott and Judge Lawrence Dawson of Pine Bluff, and four local Guardsmen, Lt. Lester Fincher, Sgt. Claude Byrd, Sgt. Richard Hogue, and Sgt. Kenneth Currence.

YOUTH AT

test has billowed into nationwide unrest, strikes and protests against the government.

Red China, too, is an extreme example of war against "the high and mighty bureaucrats." This struggle is controlled and directed by the followers of Mao Tse-tung. The target is the entrenched party bureaucracy, which after the Communist takeover in 1950 became huge and difficult for Mao to handle, a power instrument in the hands of others. Mao feared that the party would surrender its influence to the bureaucracy, the strong and authoritative Establishment.

In the Soviet Union, in Communist Poland and East Germany, it is youthful ferment which bothers the political leaders. All the unrest has had its distinct manifestations in resistance to established systems.

As in the West, students and intellectuals join hands in protest. In the East, the protest is often against lack of intellectual and cultural freedom. In the West, such freedoms are taken for granted, but the same young forces join hands in protest against conformity, against those they feel made a mess of the world the young will inherit.

The dean of the Marseille medical college announced that striking students had agreed to evacuate the building and start exams. But at the Sorbonne, the main building of the University of Paris, students still held out.

Rockets Hit, Damage U.S. Fuel Dumps

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made three ground attacks on U.S. Marines along South Vietnam's northern frontier Sunday and sent big rockets smashing into fuel and ammunition stores at the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division.

The U.S. Command said the Marines repulsed the attacks near Khe Sanh and Con Thien, killing 127 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing 58 weapons. Twelve Marines were reported killed and 49 wounded.

But the enemy's 100-pound rockets did "heavy" damage to the ammunition stores at Camp Evans, the 1st Air Cav headquarters 16 miles northwest of Hue, as well as "light" damage to fuel stores, material and facilities. "Light" personnel casualties also were reported.

Heavy damage to the ammunition means that so much of it was blown up that the men at the camp could not continue their mission until their supply was replenished.

U.S. officers say five divisions of allied and North Vietnamese forces face each other in the northern sector on almost a man for man basis. The U.S. Command believes that enough allied troops are on hand to handle anything the enemy may try in the five provinces below the demilitarized zone.

In the heaviest attack Sunday, North Vietnamese troops opened up on a small Marine unit sweeping a road two miles southeast of the Khe Sanh combat base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Marine tanks quickly reinforced the ground troops to help beat back the enemy troops, who the Marines said left 66 dead on the battlefield. Eight Marines were reported killed and 34 wounded.

A mile away, other North Vietnamese troops attacked a Marine company, but 43 of the enemy were killed and 33 enemy weapons were left on the battlefield, Marine spokesmen said. Eight Marines were reported wounded.

At the eastern end of the DMZ, another Marine patrol ran into 50 or 60 North Vietnamese troops near Con Thien, and in a heavy exchange of machine-gun and small arms fire, 18 of the enemy were reported killed.

any new constitution which may be drawn up by a constitutional convention.

He said he also hopes the legislature will approve the various money transfers he is proposing to get the state's fiscal house in order.

On prison matters, he noted that the legislature had in the first special session in February reorganized the prison system and he said that providing adequate money would be "the vital third step in our prison reform."

He said the vote on any new constitutional proposal should come in November of 1969 in a special election rather than in the 1970 general election as provided in a constitutional reform bill passed during the first special session.

Rockefeller said he had put the mixed drink item in the call at the 11th hour because of his "contempt for the hypocrisy which our existing (liquor) laws have for so long encouraged and protected."

"I cannot serve as governor in good conscience and not take a stand on this," he said.

Rockefeller said his proposed bill would permit local option elections on the question of on-premise consumption of alcoholic beverages, establish conditions ensuring strict law enforcement and substantially tax the sale of mixed drinks.

In discussing new revenues and fund transfer legislation, Rockefeller said, "We are not living within our current income and we have not been since at least 1965. Fiscal responsibility dictates that we move now to make necessary adjustments."

Passage of the fiscal package, he said, would enable the state to extend its aid to education and to "make the increased welfare grants that you and I originally planned."

He said the special session offers three courses of action:

"We can 'make do.' We can create a workable atmosphere for the next governor of Arkansas. Or, finally, we can take some bold courageous steps which will accelerate the growth potential of Arkansas beyond even our fondest dreams."

ready today to hear a speech from the man he hopes out as governor in this year's election — Winthrop Rockefeller.

Crank, a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and 134 other lawmakers were summoned by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for the second extraordinary session of the General Assembly this year. The session was scheduled to start at noon with the governor addressing a joint session at 12:30 p.m.

Crank was apparently taking the situation in stride, saying, "It's just a fact that I'll have to keep on making decisions."

The veteran lawmaker said he was surprised at some of the items—26 in all—placed in the call because "this session was called for fiscal purposes only. At least that was the original intent."

Pictured above is the group of youngsters before they paraded through downtown Hope Saturday morning to kick-off the week of Fix-Up, Paint-Up and Clean-Up campaign which starts today. The children followed the usual parade route through Hope and cleaned up the streets as they marched.

The Litter Bug campaign is being sponsored by the Hope Council of Garden Clubs and the Hope Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Earl Whitaker is chairman of the campaign and organized the downtown parade. The campaign goes on all this week and there will be a Litter Bug on the streets each day. The person identifying the Litter Bug each day will receive a Gift Certificate from a downtown merchant.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WHAT IS A GRANDMOTHER? Dear Helen: You've had "What is a Soldier? Airman? Boy Friend? Girl Friend?" etc. Here's another for your series: LOOK AGAIN AT GRANDMA

Children love them, mothers often resent them. Fathers tol- erate them, and God blesses them. They are love with gray hair, understanding with wrink- led eyes, beauty with an extra chin, and wisdom with added years. When you are busy, grandmas are added hands; when you are lonely, they brighten the void; when you are tired, grandmas take over; and when you are happy, they are marvelous people to be near and share joys with. No one else is so early to come, so late to leave. No one else has so much fun with your child. No one else can supply one baby with toys, candy, and clothes each week and remember all the anniversaries and birth- days besides.

Grandmas are wonderful crea- tures: You can hurt them with thoughtless words, but you can't injure their love for you; you find them in the way often, but they'll always be there when needed most; you can feel you don't need them, but their guid- ance is a boon. Grandma is your week-end vacation, your grocery store, your baby sitter, and your helper, your child's fa- vorite, and—your mother.

And just when the formula's ruined, baby spits up, the house is in disorder, company's com- ing, and supper is burned, she appears with her untiring three words: "May I help?"— ANONYMOUS

Dear Helen: I'm 24, male, and starting on a junior, junior executive job which involves considerable socializing. I work- ed my way through the univer- sity, and got my degrees with- out learning too much small talk. Talking business to the men is no problem, but Helen, what do you say to a woman when she gets you alone, especially when you're dancing a slow dance with her?—TONGUE TIED

Dear T.T.: Why don't you say, "Talking through a waltz is like kissing with your eyes open—it spoils the mood." Then, if she's young, pretty, and un- attached, blow in her ear. (If she's your boss's wife—forget it.)

... And keep in mind that women like shy young executive- types. Stay that way!—H.

Dear Helen: I'm the father of six children. In answer to "Real Man" who won't change his baby's diaper or get up with him at night, I'd say he's a real heel! I've helped my wife with all our children, and feel all the closer to them and her be- cause I've had a part. And I'm no less a man!—JIM

P.S. We were partners in getting the babies, why shouldn't we be partners in rais- ing them?

Dear Helen: In my opinion, "Real Man" is a mouse. I walked the floor many a night with a crying baby so my dear wife could rest; then walked eight miles to work in the coal mines next morning. I made beds, scrubbed, washed clothes on an old washboard at times. My wife, in turn, made my life easier wherever she could. We have been together 52 happy years, and we're still shar- ing work and pleasure.—HAPPY HUSBAND

Dear Helen: "Real Man" asks —why bother with a baby who doesn't recognize you? Well, his wife no doubt recognizes him— as a real first-class boob! It takes a real man to be a real father. This guy doesn't quali- fy!—IRATE WIFE

When Art Carney and Pat

Paulsen—one in New York and the other in Hollywood—were given special "individual achievement" awards, some- thing went wrong in the coordi- nation during an attempt to split the screen between the two men. Both of them just stood there on camera for what seemed endless minutes, not knowing whether they were on camera and certainly at a loss to know what to do.

It was, quite frankly, a per- fectly terrible show from the standpoint of production. But it is hard to argue about the qual- ity of the selections.

The author and the star of CBS Playhouse's "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night," Loring Mandel and Melvyn Douglas, both were honored for the original drama. Maureen Stapleton won for her role in "Among the Paths to Eden."

"Rowan and Martin's Laugh- in'" was picked as the outstand- ing variety special and the out- standing variety series, and its writers picked up a third Emmy.

Lucille Ball for the second time in a row won for her per- formance in a comedy series; Don Adams, for his clowning in "Get Smart." Milburn Stone, after 14 years in "Gunsmoke," was rewarded with the support- ing actor's Emmy while Bar- bara Anderson, after less than a year in "Ironside," was named top supporting actress.

The late Marlon Lorne was a popular choice as best support- ing actress in a comedy for her part in "Bewitched," while Wer- ner Klemperer of the long-play- ing "Hogan's Heroes," was also awarded for his support in a comedy. Barbara Bain of "Mis- sion: Impossible" and Bill Cos- by of "11 Spy" were chosen as best actor and actress in the dramatic series categories.

Outstanding dramatic series was "Mission: Impossible," and "Get Smart" was picked for the comedy series prize. Outstand- ing dramatic program of the year was an adaptation of a stage play, "Elizabeth the Queen."

Miss USA Credits Her Family

By KAYBARTLETT

Associated Press Writer MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss USA says she would not be Miss USA today if she were an only child. But as one of nine she entered her first beauty contest to scratch up a little extra money for her col- lege education.

"All the kids have some kind of a job," said Dorothy "Didi" Anstett of Kirkland, Wash. "So I thought I would enter a beauty contest and one led to another."

"But I still can't believe it. I wish I could cry or something, but I don't often cry," said the brown-eyed brunette who re- mained dry-eyed when she was crowned Saturday night as Miss USA 1968.

"Freddie delivers papers, Marie works at a swimming pool and everybody but Beth baby sits," said Miss Anstett, a 20-year-old English major at the University of Washington who hopes to become a full-time teacher. She already tutors un- derprivileged children.

Her four brothers and four sisters range from 3-year-old Beth to 23-year-old Terry. Terry is married and the only one who lives away from the family's six-bedroom home on a lake in Kirkland, just outside of Seattle.

Miss Anstett, who edged out Miss Maryland, Paulette Reck of Baltimore, for the crown competes in the Miss Universe pageant here in July.

The chestiest girl in the page- ant, with 40-25-36 measure- ments on a 5-foot-9 frame, Miss Anstett described herself as a stringbean in the eighth grade.

Hope Wins Baseball Tourney

First baseman John Henley hit a bases loaded double in the sixth inning to lead Hope to a 4-2 victory over Arkadelphia in the Area 7 high school baseball tournament here Saturday night.

Hope's other run came when Arkadelphia threw the ball away trying to pick a runner off first and Ricky Pitman scored from third.

Arkadelphia got its only two runs of the night in the first inning on two walks and a free pass when the next batter was hit by a wild pitch. Rutledge then hit a double, driving in two runs.

Hope earlier had beaten Murreboro 2-0 in the afternoon semifinals game.

Hope will play Gillett or St. Charles, the winner of the Area 6 tournament Monday afternoon at Taylor Field in Pine Bluff.

The battery for Hope was Galloway and Brown and for Arkadelphia Manning and Smith.

Qualifying Record Set at Speedway

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Drivers of conventional racers were about ready today to concede the 52nd 500-mile Memorial Day race to one of the Lotus turbines that dashed to Indianapolis Motor Speedway qualifying records over the weekend.

But they could be premature, said S.A. Silbermann, metallurgist and long-time U.S. Auto Club official who heads the 500 technical committee.

He noted that the weather was damp and chilly Saturday when Graham Hill of London set the 10-mile qualifying record at 171.208 m.p.h. and Lotus teammate Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., raised it to 171.559.

Silbermann said the picture could change if Memorial Day is hot.

"The turbines' horsepower and torque will drop off about 20 per cent if the temperature is 85 degrees," he said. "They hit their peak at 59 degrees."

Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., winner of the last three USAC championship races and defending Indianapolis champion A.J. Foyt Jr., Houston, were among a host of drivers and car owners who said the piston cars will have to run a separate race behind the turbines. They said the "heat engines" will ruin auto racing.

Silbermann commented, "did you see that crowd Saturday? Turbines won't kill racing. The crowd will always turn out to see something new and controversial."

The Saturday turnout was estimated up to 265,000.

Unser had the third-best qualifying speed of 169,507 m.p.h. in an Eagle-Offenhouser and will share the front row with Leonard and Hill.

Fifteen cars that qualified Saturday averaged 167.22 m.p.h. against 163.577 for the first 15 last year.

Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., who held the track qualifying record of 168.982 with a piston engine, burned a piston Saturday in his turbocharged Ford. He came back with a replacement engine that had run only 10 miles and was fourth-fastest at 167.691.

Andretti will share the second row with Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., 167.613 in a Monocoque turbocharged Offenhouser, and Bobby Unser's brother Al, 167.066 in a new four-wheel-drive Lola-Ford.

Casper Is Winner at Fort Worth

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Methodical Billy Casper became the first player in golf history to win over $100,000 this early in the year Sunday with a runaway five-stroke victory in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

Casper's $25,000 first prize put him at the $103,668.64 bracket. He says the Mormon Church gets 10 per cent and the government the rest.

Casper shot a closing round two-under-par 68 over the tough 7,000-yard par 70 Colonial Country Club course to finish with a 275 and become a two-time winner in the tournament.

The victory also put Casper alone as the only three-time winner on the 1968 tour. He previously scored victories at Greensboro and Los Angeles.

The earliest previous date for any golfer to win over $100,000 was in June, 1967 when Arnold Palmer won $15,000 with a second-place finish in the U.S. Open to get a $113,225.63 total.

Casper was never really pressed although he started the day tied with South African Gary Player, who said he shot his "worst round in five years" in soaring to a 76 for a 283 total.

Gene Littler fired a closing round 68 to finish second with an even par 280 worth $15,000. Tommy Aaron carved out an even par 70 for $9,375.

Casper's only hint of trouble came at the par 3 No. 8 where a five-iron landed in the middle of the green and rolled over. Casper chipped back and three-putted for a double bogey.

"I wasn't too worried even then," said Casper. "I had a large lead."

Casper was so unworried that on the next hole he fished for golf balls in a creek while Littler putted. Then he calmly walked up and knocked his ball in for a bird.

Casper said he would take a two-week rest from the tour. His next appearances will be at Indianapolis, Ind., in the 500 Festival, and the Canadian and British Opens.

Stanky Admits Club Has a Way to Go

By JOE MOOSHL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Four straight, eight out of 10 and 12 out of the last 16. The Chicago White Sox are coming? Don't bet.

"We're still not hitting or pitching the way we should," said Eddie Stanky Sunday after his Sox had polished off the Oakland A's 6-2 and 7-3 to sweep the four-game set.

"Don't get me wrong," said Stanky, whose club lost its first 10 games of the season, "I'm not knocking winning games, but we have a long way to go."

"Somebody's going to pick up a paper in Texas or in Oklahoma and see we won four straight. 'Here come the Sox,' they'll say. Well, I hope they're right."

"But somewhere else, somebody is going to say 'the Sox haven't beaten any of the top teams' and they will be right," continued Stanky.

"Yet, we lost the pennant last year because we couldn't beat the A's and Washington consistently. We held our own against the top teams and I think we can do it again this year."

"We will have to get the hitting from Pete Ward and Tommy Davis," said Stanky "and our pitching isn't up to snuff yet."

"When we lost those first 10 games a lot of people wanted to count us out of the race," said Stanky. "Now that we're winning, the same people are asking questions about winning the pennant."

"I've said all along that this is a long season and there's a lot

Here comes Eddie Stanky now, charging up through the American League standings with managerial plotting that borders on the mystical.

Stanky's Chicago White Sox swept a Sunday doubleheader from Kansas City 6-2, 7-3 and did it on a three-run homer by a pitcher and with three pinch runners all scoring runs in the same inning.

Brilliant. The Sox, who started the season in reverse with 10 straight losses, now have won 12 of their last 16 games and soared into sixth place in the American League.

In other American League games Sunday, Detroit swept a doubleheader from Washington 5-4 and 7-0 and ended Frank Howard's consecutive game home string at six, Cleveland took a pair from Baltimore 11-6 and 2-0, California split with Minnesota, winning 2-1 and then losing 3-2, and New York walloped Boston 11-3.

In the National League, Atlanta swept a pair from New York 3-2 and 2-0, San Francisco split with Chicago, winning 1-0 and then losing 6-3, Cincinnati battered Pittsburgh 9-3, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 4-3 and Houston swept Los Angeles 2-1 and 3-1.

Stanky, who moved fast and furiously with second game substitutions, let pitcher Tommy John swing for himself with Oakland leading 2-1 in the fourth inning of the opener and two runners aboard.

John, whose 4-0 record shows no scars of the season-opening nightmare, rewarded the faith with a three-run homer and shut out the A's the rest of the way.

In the nightcap, Chicago was nursing a 1-0 lead in the fifth when Stanky went to work in earnest. Luis Aparicio was hit by a pitch and Ken Berry sacrificed. Pete Ward walked and Stanky inserted Buddy Bradford to run.

Tommy Davis singled for one run and Bill Voss went in to run for him. An error loaded the bases and Stanky sent up Wayne Causey as a pinch hitter.

A two-run single, naturally, and Sandy Alomar in to run for Causey. Tim Lullen bunted and another run scored as the A's missed a runner at the plate.

Gerry McNertney singled another run across before the Sox were through.

Three pinch runners, all of whom scored, and a successful pinch hitter, all in one inning? "Routine," shrugged Stanky, walking off.

The Tigers halted Howard's string which had reached 10 homers in six games, and beat the Senators twice with some long ball punch of their own.

Dick McAuliffe homered in each game while Al Kaline and Ed Mathews both connected in the nightcap. Kaline's pinch shot was the 307th of his career and gave him the Detroit club leadership by one over Hank Greenberg. Mathews hit No. 510, leaving him one short of Mel Ott and sixth place on the alltime list.

Gates Brown's pinch single drove home Detroit's winning run in the eighth inning of the opener after a double by Howard had ignited a four-run tying rally by the Senators in the top half.

Sonny Siebert pitched a one-hitter for his third shutout and the 11th this season for the Cleveland staff as the Indians completed a sweep of the Orioles. Tommy Harper's bases-empty homer and an eighth inning double by Tony Horton drove in Cleveland's runs.

The Indians pummeled four Baltimore pitchers for 15 hits including a three-run homer by Duke Sims as Steve Hargan coasted to the first game victory.

Ron Perranoski, who surrendered California's winning hit in the opener, choked off an Angel rally that preserved Minnesota's second game victory.

The Angels had scored twice in the eighth inning when Perranoski struck out Bubba Morton and got Jim Fregosi on a fly ball, ending the rally.

Sammy Ellis got last-out help from Minnie Rojas to win the opener on a five-hitter.

Andy Kosco drove in five runs with three hits including a homer and Tom Tresh atoned for a three-error game the night before by driving in four runs as the Yankees battered Boston.

of games to play. Sure, we took four straight from Oakland, but we didn't play what we'll. We have to play a lot better if we're going to keep winning."

Forward Pass Going to Belmont

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — There are two triples in the making in thoroughbred racing. Calumet Farm wants one; Peter Fuller wants no part of the other.

A triple for Calumet would be realized if Forward Pass wins the June 1 Belmont Stakes to go with his tainted victory in the Kentucky Derby and his convincing triumph in last Saturday's Preakness at Pimlico.

Fuller's unwanted and very improbable triple could also occur in the Belmont—a disqualification of his Dancer's Image.

In the case of Dancer's Image, the odds have already been defied beyond belief.

The Gray Native Dancer colt finished first in the Derby ahead of Forward Pass but was disqualified when a urinalysis revealed an illegal medication in his system. Then in the Preakness, he was disqualified from first to third for bothering Martin's Jig and Nodouble in the stretch.

They were the first disqualifications in the 94-year History of the Derby and the 93 years of the Preakness.

But by the time the interference took place, Forward Pass had the race well in hand.

Jockey Ismael Valenzuela kept the son of On and On in good position from the start and when he asked him to move turning for home, Forward Pass seized through the stretch to beat Robert J. Kleberg's Out of the Way.

Another head back was Dancer's Image, whose jockey Bobby Ussery was held blameless by the stewards who ruled the interference was beyond the veteran rider's control.

Forward Pass covered the 1 3-16 miles in 1:56 4-5, running the final three-sixteenths in 19 1-5. He earned $142,700 from the gross purse of $195,200, the richest ever for a Triple Crown race.

Gene Coff's Nodouble, whose rider stood up in the irons at the sixteenth pole, was moved to third after Dancer's Image was set down, and James Skinner's Yankee Lad was given fourth money.

Apprentice Willie McKeever, aboard Nodouble, was fined $100 for misjudging the finish line, but Goff and trainer Gene Somner agreed the misjudgment did not affect the order of finish.

Another thing that did not affect the order of finish was the urinalysis given each of the first three finishers. Pimlico officially announced Sunday the urinalyses were negative. Although Nodouble was moved to third, he did not have to undergo a post-race test.

There was some big money being offered for older horses Saturday, and Dr. Fager got a big chunk of it when he easily won the $119,600 California over 1 1-16 miles at Golden Gate Fields.

Amerigo Lady won the $58,200 Top Flight Handicap on closing day at Aqueduct and P'm Smiley scored in the $34,400 Illinois Handicap at Arlington Park.

BELMONT PARK, one of the grand names in thoroughbred racing history, returns to the national spotlight this spring. In 1963, the rickety stands there were declared unsafe and the park, except for the stable area was closed by the New York Racing Association. Now, a $30,700,000 reconstruction program has been completed, and there will be business as usual. The historic wrought iron gates (upper right), previously at the main entrance, were installed in the clubhouse area in the Belmont grandstands. Below, the bright new grandstands are shown. Despite the modern approach, the aura of history and the many famous persons who attended racing there, such as then 10-year-old Jackie Kennedy (upper right) pictured in 1939, is still present.

Banks Slam Homer to Beat Giants

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Cubs caught San Francisco's Herman Franks turning the other cheek . . . and Ernie Banks followed Dick Nen's left jab with a right smash that floored the Giants.

Nen drilled a two-run homer in the fourth inning of Sunday's doubleheader nightcap at San Francisco, then bowed out in the sixth for pinch hitter Banks, whose three-run homer powered the Cubs to a 6-3 victory.

The Giants had taken the first game 1-0 on the six-hit pitching of Gaylord Perry and a second inning homer by Jim Hart.

Manager Leo Durocher made the sixth inning switch from the left-hand hitting Nen to Banks, a right-handed swinger, after Giants pilot Franks replaced starting pitcher Bob Bolin with southpaw Joe Gibbon. Bolin, the victim of Nen's first homer as a Cub, had gotten two outs in the inning before walking Ron Santo and Al Spangler.

Durocher said, "When Herman put in the left-handed pitcher (Gibbon), he forced me to take out Nen and bring in a right-handed hitter. I don't know what Herman had in mind, but I certainly wasn't going to use a lefty against a lefty."

Nen was hitting .077 in 12 games.

The second game setback left the Giants tied with red hot Atlanta for second place in the National League—just one game behind the slumping St. Louis Cardinals.

The Braves swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 3-2 and 2-0 for a run of eight victories in their last 10 games. The Cardinals bowed to Philadelphia 4-3, extending the losing string to four. Cincinnati slugged Pittsburgh 9-3 and Houston beat Los Angeles twice, 2-1 and 3-1.

Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago swept American League twin bills, the Tigers taking Washington 5-4 and 7-0, the Indians triumphing Baltimore 11-6 and 2-0, and the White Sox flogging Oakland 6-2 and 7-3. California downed Minnesota 2-1 before losing the nightcap 3-2 and the New York Yankees mauled Boston 11-3.

After Banks' sixth homer of the season gave Chicago a 5-0 lead, Phil Regan came out of the Cubs' bullpen to choke off a Giant rally in the bottom of the sixth and preserve Bill Hands' fourth victory. Mike Marshall chased Hands with a two-run single, but Regan got Hart to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

In the opener, Perry posted his fifth victory and first shutout of the year in a duel with Ferguson Jenkins, who surrendered Hart's seventh homer and dropped to 1-4 for the season.

Ron Reed, Atlanta's unbeaten rookie, pitched a two-hitter in the opener at New York and gained his fifth victory when

Southern Cal Track Team Takes First

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Earl McCullough, a Southern California football hero, carried the 'Trojans' Thundering Herd label to the track team.

The Trojans, with McCullough and Lennox Miller picking up three first and one third place medals each, thundered over opposition in the ninth Pacific 8 Conference track and field championships Saturday.

Now it's on to the NCAA championships, in which they are defending crown-wearers, on June 13-15 on the same University of California Edwards Field.

Southern California totalled 128 points with a balanced team that won eight events and scored points in 14 of the 18.

Defending champion Oregon, despite an unprecedented sweep of the first four places in the mile for 28 points, was held to 82.

Miller repeated his 1967 victories in the 100 and 220 sprints. Gerry Lindgren of Washington State won his third three-mile championship.

The Trojans' Miller, McCullough, C.J. Simpson and Fred Kuller set stadium and meet records with a 39.3 440 relay. Miller's 9.4 century equaled the stadium record.

Other major weekend meets included the Big Eight at Boulder, Colo., the Southern Conference at Tuscaloosa, Ala., the Metropolitan Championships in New York City, the Big Ten at Minneapolis and the Western Athletic Conference at Denver.

Guards Called Out in City in Maryland

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — About 800 National Guardsmen and 300 state troopers have been sent to Salisbury, a town on Maryland's Eastern Shore, following violence touched off by the killing of a Negro deaf mute by a white policeman in a burglary investigation.

Damage caused by some 1,000 Negroes Saturday was relatively light, but Gov. Spiro T. Agnew moved to guard against a recurrence.

On Sunday, the governor proclaimed a state of emergency for the town of 18,000, installed a 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew and then activated the 6,000-member National Guard "in such numbers as shall be required."

There was no trouble in Salisbury when the activation order was issued at 5 p.m. Sunday, but Agnew said he felt the security of the area required the availability and presence of troops.

It was left to Maj. Gen. George M. Gelston, the state adjutant general, to decide how many troops were needed.

As the first guardsmen were being deployed at major intersections and in Negro areas Sunday night, a sniper reportedly fired two shots at a state police car.

Aided by the curfew and a heavy thunderstorm, streets were virtually deserted. About 20 persons were picked up as curfew violators and sent to the Poplar Hill correctional camp about 12 miles west of Salisbury.

Two lumber yard fires burned Sunday night at Fruitland, a town of about 2,000 located five miles west of Salisbury.

Donald Williams, the Wicomico County fire marshal, said three firebombs were found at one yard and two at the other. Total damage was estimated at $40,000 by the owners.

On Sunday, the governor proclaimed a state of emergency for the town of 18,000, installed a 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew and then activated the 6,000-member National Guard "in such numbers as shall be required."

There was no trouble in Salisbury when the activation order was issued at 5 p.m. Sunday, but Agnew said he felt the security of the area required the availability and presence of troops.

It was left to Maj. Gen. George M. Gelston, the state adjutant general, to decide how many troops were needed.

Czechs Are Overcoming Fear of Russia

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — One of Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders says talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin are "gradually succeeding in overcoming fears and reservations" about the Prague regime's liberalization, and the new trend will continue.

But "not everything is satisfactory," said Parliament President Josef Smrkovsky, who talked with Kosygin Saturday. Smrkovsky's remarks were published in the Communist party newspaper, Rude Pravo.

He described the talks as friendly, and said the Soviets were concerned "whether the developments in Czechoslovakia could not reach a point when they would threaten the socialist order itself and violate the alliance of the Warsaw treaty."

Smrkovsky said the new regime does not intend to abandon the liberalization measures they have taken. At the same time, he said, Czechoslovakia needs to have good relations with the Soviet Union.

"If we were to insure our state independence alone," he said, "then, in view of all our history, I should fear about the fate of our country. This is why I consider the talks that are currently taking place as a contribution toward strengthening our friendly relations."

Kosygin went to a Bohemian spa for medical treatment and rest as well. He was also to have more talks with party and government leaders.

Meanwhile, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said there were "positive" signs in Czechoslovakia's liberalization campaign but warned against "hostile" demands to weaken the role of the Czechoslovak Communist party.

Church Didn't Matter Much

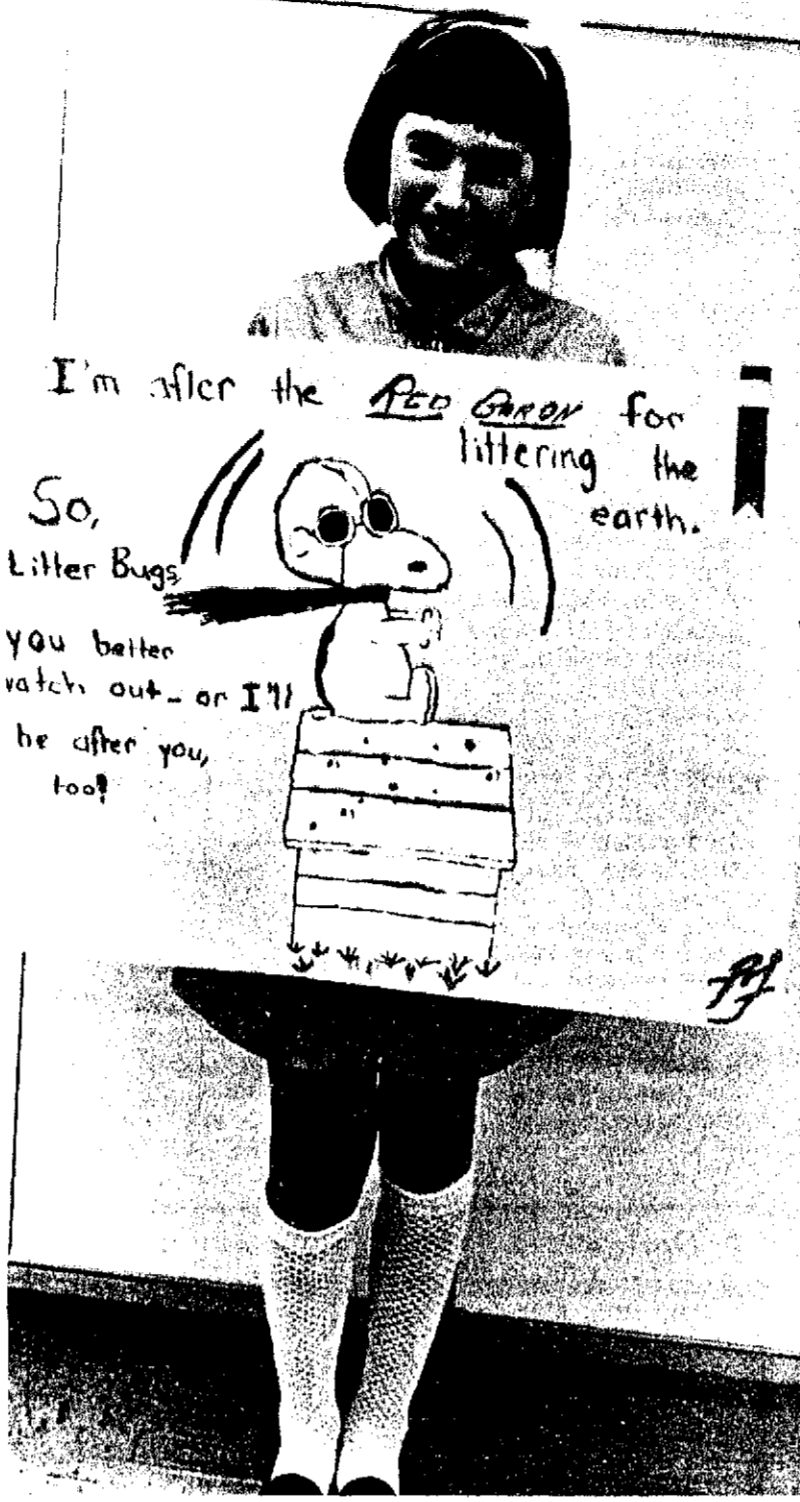

FOREST CITY, Iowa (AP) — The Rev. E. W. Lechtenberg of St. James Catholic Church needed an altar boy to participate in a wedding.

He saw a youth sitting on the back steps of the church and pressed him for the 45-minute marriage ceremony of Nancy Anderson and Charles Garcia.

After the ceremony the priest asked the boy his name.

"I'm Danny Gangstead," the youngster said. "My father is pastor of the Lutheran church across the street."

Poll Sees 73 Per Cent for Mixed Drinks

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An aide to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller released Sunday a private poll which showed that 73 per cent of the Arkansas voters favored legalizing mixed drinks.

The aide, who asked that he not be identified, said the poll was taken for the governor.

It also indicated that 24 per cent opposed it and 3 per cent said they had no opinion.

The question, which hinted that the pollster was talking about mixed drinks in private clubs, said: "Private clubs pay a few taxes and most do not have permits to sell both liquor and beer. There is talk in the legislature to propose a bill making sale of mixed drinks legal under certain conditions if local people vote in favor of the idea. These places would have to have permits and pay state taxes. Would you be for or against a bill like this one?"

Rockefeller Likes Reagan on Ticket

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket would have "great strength"—but that he feels right now California Gov. Ronald Reagan is after the top spot.

Rockefeller, announced Republican presidential candidate, said Sunday he thinks Reagan's course will be influenced by the vote the California draws in the May 28 Oregon and June 4 California primaries.

Rockefeller planned to meet today with Southern GOP leaders in New Orleans where Reagan spoke Sunday. The two governors scheduled visits to Florida later in the day with Reagan making stops at Washington, D.C., and Charlotte, N.C.

The New Yorker's comments on Reagan were made on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

"He's getting increasingly active—a lot of TV work around the country," Rockefeller said, "and I think that he is pretty well set for the top spot."

Asked if he'd be happy with a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket, the New York governor replied he'd be happy to get the GOP nomination "and after that I'm open minded."

Reagan, a California favorite-son candidate who has said he would accept the GOP nomination but is not soliciting it, is entered in both the Oregon and California primaries.

He called at a Republican rally in New Orleans Sunday for the "great silent majority" of college teachers and students to stem the tide of campus demonstrations and stand up "for the true meaning of academic freedom."

"If students, urged on and supported by a radical minority of faculty members can take over and threaten our higher education system," Reagan said, "what makes us think that tomorrow it won't be taking over society itself?"

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon was listed by the Gallup Poll meanwhile as the candidate with the highest public enthusiasm now—although the poll showed less enthusiasm for any leading presidential candidate now than in the past 16 years.

The poll found Nixon listed "highly favorable" by 28 per cent of the people surveyed. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey followed with 26 per cent, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with 24 per cent, Rockefeller with 23 per cent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy with 19, third-party candidate George Wallace with 15 and Reagan with 11.

The poll found none of the current candidates doing as well at this stage of the campaign as did President Johnson in 1964, Nixon and John F. Kennedy in 1960, and Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson in 1956 and 1952.

In the Democratic presidential race, Kennedy issued a new broadside at Humphrey for "using a political forum to report" on sensitive negotiations with Asian Communist nations.

Humphrey had told the American Association of Editorial Cartoonists the crew of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo, and possibly the vessel, "may" be released by North Korea.

Death Ruled Accidental at Batesville

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Coroner George W. Barnett said Sunday that Mrs. Lois Hawkins, 45, of nearby Magness was accidentally shot to death Sunday when a shotgun apparently fell to the floor of her bedroom and discharged.

Barnett said the shotgun had been leaning against the wall and that when Mrs. Hawkins opened a closet, it apparently fell and discharged.

Her body was discovered by a neighbor, Barnett said. He said the victim was holding a telephone in her hand and had called the neighbor for help, using a prearranged signal.

Four Killed on Arkansas Highways

Four persons were killed in weekend traffic accidents in Arkansas, an Associated Press count showed today.

The death toll covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

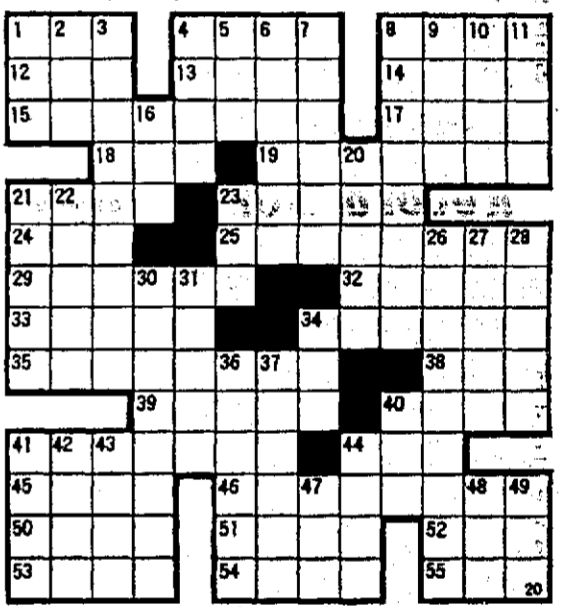

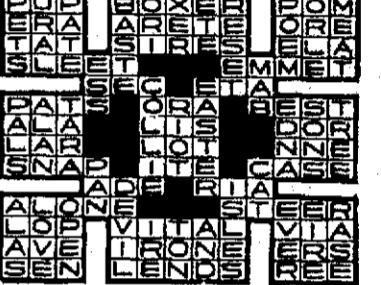

Joe David Ford, 28, and Leon Williamson, 33, both of Blytheville, were killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on U.S. 61 about one mile north of Blytheville.

State Police said Ford lost control of his car, veered across the highway and collided with another car driven by Bill Wyatt, 23, also of Blytheville. Officers said Williamson was a passenger in the Ford car.

John Campbell, 3-year-old son of Sidney Campbell of Joiner, died in a Memphis hospital Saturday night after he was struck by a car earlier in the day. State Trooper Raymond Bishop said the child was attempting to cross Arkansas 118 six miles east of Joiner when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Gean Branch, 46, of Joiner.

Howard Hartsough, 14, of Van Buren, was killed Friday night when the car in which he was riding left Arkansas 50.

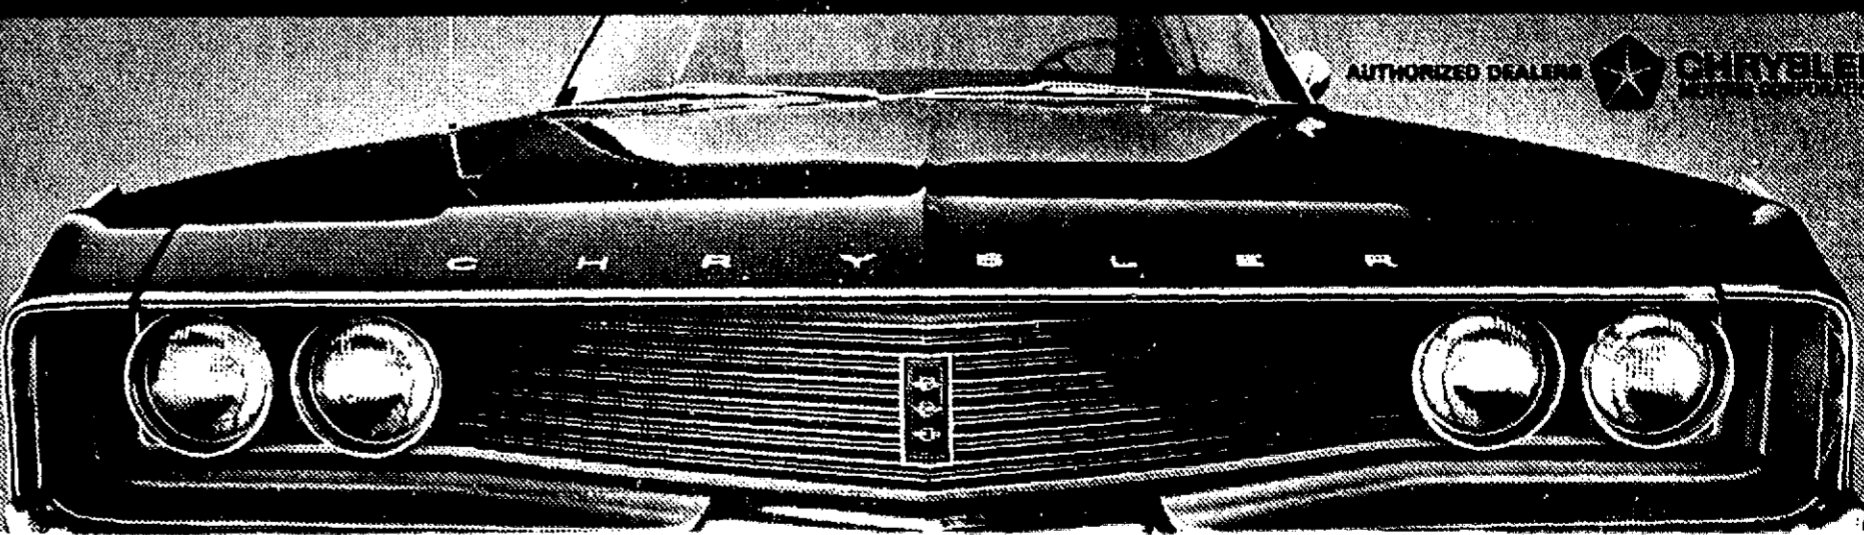

Answer to Previous Puzzle

The Unbeatables prove:

If you can afford a Ford, you can afford a Chrysler.

Chrysler Newport now priced about $3.78 a month more than Ford LTD*

Chrysler Newport now priced about $3.78 a month more than a Ford LTD* (which is still a Ford, a high-price, low-price car). Chrysler Newport now priced about $2.29 a month more than a Chevy Caprice* (which is still a Chevy, a high-price, low-price car). That little more now moves you up into a big, full-size, almost shamefully elegant Chrysler—and that's an unbeatable deal. Afford a Chrysler? The way we're dealing, can you afford to pass it up?

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices for Chrysler Newport, Ford LTD and Chevrolet Caprice 2-dr hardtops, comparably equipped. WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

How salty is salt water? Evaporating one cubic foot of sea water yields about 2.2 pounds of salt, but one cubic foot of fresh lake water yields only about 1/4-ounce, says The World Almanac. Thus, sea water is 220 times saltier than fresh water. If all the salt in oceans and seas were extracted and spread over the land area, it would form a layer over 500 feet high.

Color Run Tuesday;
We've Recovered
Red and Yellow

The Star will publish its 14th four-color photo production tomorrow, Tuesday, May 21. We hit a peak in June, 1967, with four productions that month. Color work was discontinued during the summer vacations—and we encountered technical trouble when resuming in the Fall.

One of our new darkroom refrigeration machines had to be replaced because of faulty temperature control. The four separation negatives for each color production have to be processed within half a degree of Fahrenheit 68. We finally got a refrigeration unit which would hold within a quarter of a degree.

That should have ended our troubles—but it didn't. Production calls for four colors—cyan (blue), magenta (red), yellow, and black. But the red and yellow vanished. It was a progressive disaster, beginning with "Autumn in Arkansas" Oct. 18, continuing through "Buffalo River and War Eagle Fair," a two-page run Nov. 24, and ending with "Marineland Porpoises" March 6, 1968—by which time our published pictures had nothing but blue and black.

Last week we discovered the trouble. The first step in a process color production is the making of the "tri-mask"—a black-and-white copy of the original color transparency which is sealed to it in exact "register" and placed in the enlarging head of the Berkey machine, which then produces the four separation negatives from which the press plates are made. If we were losing the red and yellow in the final result it could be that something was wrong with our starting film—it not only could be ... it was.

Eastman's Tri-Mask film is a color-balancing device—a thick film with four layers. But it is perishable stuff. While we were out of color production waiting for refrigeration replacement last summer our supply of Tri-Mask film—$50 worth—was quietly going to pot.

Apparently some of the layers fogged up—therefore the red and yellow were blocked from coming through on the Berkey's projection of the separation negatives.

I ordered one box of new Tri-Mask film, shot a series of 4x5 Ektachrome transparencies for test purposes—and last week made an apparently solid color production. The reds and yellows were back with us!

You'll see it on the back page tomorrow.

It shows the azaleas at the former home of Mrs. Anna Judson at N. Elm and Ave. C, a house now owned by Mrs. F. R. Johnson. The azaleas were a hobby of the late Mrs. Judson, and were at their peak when we photographed them April 20—before the prolonged rains washed them out.

If you're short of red and azalea picture will let you know. Our shop color proof shows not only the red is back but the yellow also. How do we know, since there's no actual yellow in the picture? Well, the grass is green—and it takes yellow over blue to make green. Remember our last color production, "Marineland Porpoises" March 6? It was blue where it should have been green ... but now we believe we're back in business.

Can Picket All Stores, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decided today that a privately owned shopping center is essentially a public area, and to prohibit picketing there would violate constitutional guarantees of free speech.

The 6-3 decision involved a union which was picketing outside a supermarket that was run by non-union employees. The owner of the shopping center contended that because it was private property the union could not picket there.

But Justice Thurgood Marshall, who delivered the opinion of the court, said modern shopping centers are "open to the public to the same extent as the commercial center of a normal town."

Three separate dissents were filed by Justices Hugo L. Black, Byron R. White and John M. Harlan.

Only Family With an Electric Toothbrush on Living Room Table

By JOY STILEY
NEW YORK (AP) — We have probably the only apartment in New York City with an electric toothbrush on the living room table.

It may not be the answer to all our decorating problems, but it has certainly solved our toothbrushing problems.

Though a bit out of place among the lamps, ashtrays and potted plants with which it shares display space, it came to its final resting place by the process of elimination.

My husband purchased this automatic tooth cleaner as a surprise—which I feared might give me something of a shock—for my birthday. I am dubious about the wisdom of mixing electricity, water and toothpaste, but this time the lazy side of my nature won out over the cautious side.

Actually, I was in no great danger of getting electrocuted while the busy brushes were swishing up and down at the rate of 11,000 strokes per minute. It turned out that there's no electric cord attached to the power handle which holds the toothbrushes. It operates on rechargeable batteries and the electricity all goes into the recharger base, where the handle rests to revitalize itself when it's not in use.

However, there was one drawback to this mechanical marvel, we discovered on reading the ground rules: it had to be plugged in to a "live" electric outlet in order to keep its muscle power in working order.

The outlet in our bathroom is on the same switch as that room's electric light. To maintain the toothbrush in operating condition, the bathroom light would have to remain on 24 hours a day. Not only would that be a little too much brightness in our lives, but while the toothbrush was charging, the electric company would be charging too.

The dental delight had to be plugged in somewhere—but where? The kitchen, too far afield to make it a practical base, was vetoed. The bedrooms were similarly bypassed. Obviously the living room, with its multitude of live outlets and its proximity to the scene of dental action, was the only possible answer.

So there it sits, trailing its electric cord, on a table behind a flower pot trailing ivy. If we know in advance that company's coming, we remove the appliance and plug it in somewhere else where it is at least invisible, though temporarily inaccessible.

But the unexpected visitor, coming upon this unusual bit of decor spotlighted under the lamp, never knows whether to comment on our originality or to avert his eyes and pretend it isn't there.

Jury Trial Right Binding on States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today established the right to jury trial in "serious" criminal contempt cases.

The 7-2 decision uproots the court's long-standing position that state and federal courts have the constitutional power to punish any criminal contempt without a jury trial.

It was one of two major rulings today in the jury trial area. The other, brought up from Louisiana, firmly extended to the states the federal constitutional requirement that jury trial be granted in criminal cases.

A dozen states now fall short of the federal standard.

DeGaulle Is Returning to Face Crisis

By RODNEY ANGOVE
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle consulted with his top ministers on France's growing crisis Sunday after hurrying back from Romania, but he took no immediate action despite the rebellion rising across the country.

De Gaulle returned home 14 hours early from his state visit to Romania, called back by the situation which began as a students' revolt and ballooned into the biggest strike wave to cripple France in three decades.

More than 100 factories and an estimated two million workers were idle, and the number increased steadily.

Strike votes were called today in many factories, including Sud-Aviation's main plant at Toulouse, where the Concorde supersonic airliner is being built. The strikes started with Sud-Aviation's factory in Nantes last week.

Only the big Paris international airport, was almost deserted as airlines switched their flights to Brussels and sent travelers to Paris on chartered buses. The French capital was also without trains, postal or telegraph services, subways, buses, garbage collectors and street cleaners. Workers occupied the city's electric and water plants over the weekend, but these services were continuing. Telephones in the city were also operating normally.

France's three big union federations appeared unwilling to break openly with De Gaulle, and none has called for a general strike. So far their demands have been modest: Higher pay with no specific target and a slight lowering of the retirement age.

De Gaulle conferred with officials in charge of national security and held a long meeting with Premier Georges Pompidou. Information Minister Georges Gorse told newsmen "various measures concerning public order were examined."

There was no indication what those measures might be, or when they might be employed. But De Gaulle gave no indication that he planned to advance his radio-television address to the nation, which was still scheduled for Friday.

Pompidou facing a vote of censure in the National Assembly Wednesday, has granted some concessions to the students, and since then the student situation has quieted a bit. The students are torn between a desire by many to take the year-end examinations and the determination of others to achieve drastic reform of the "bourgeois social system."

The radical wing of the student groups demanded a boycott of the exams to symbolize their desire for reform.

Methodist Kindergarten Has Program

Friday, to culminate the year's work, the children of Methodist Kindergarten presented a program of music and rhythms for the pleasure of their families. Titled "A Day in May," the program included songs, dances, and rhythm band selections. A colorful number was the "Carousel" when the children, mounted on stick horses, circled a flower trimmed May pole.

Bill Bruner gave the greeting to the guests; Julie Graves and Andy LaGrone were student directors. Tommy Murphy was color guard and also played the part of the mouse in "Hickory, Dickory, Dock." Other children participating were: Bobby Hopkins, Clay Lockhart, Curt Petre, David Barranco, Gene McMahon, Mike Gilbert, Mike Godwin, Phil Watkins, Scott Martin, Steve Smith, Steve Wylie, Kelly Knight, Clyda Kay Park, Diana Dunn, Donna Sue Griffin, Eve Emerson, Jane Routon, Julie Flowers, Karen Stringfellow, Kim Hairy, Lynn Duke, Ma-

Linda Arrington, Misty Alexander, and Sally Keyton.

A group of mothers, with Mrs. Ralph Emerson as chairman, furnished refreshments for the guests.

Youth at War With The Establishment, Its Bureaucracy, System

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Rebellious youth in East and West have declared war on The Establishment.

In the East, the Establishment is the Communist party and its bureaucracy. In the West it is the bourgeoisie and its system.

Whether they are ruled by Communists or capitalists, growing numbers of young people see around them a world they did not make and do not want.

The black flags of anarchism and the red flags of communism flying over the stately old Sorbonne in Paris signal the students' rebellion which has pushed Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic into deep crisis. "The bourgeois state must be destroyed," proclaims a big, hand-printed sign on the portico of the university's chapel. Another says: "In Warsaw, Prague, Madrid, Algiers, New York, Tokyo and Rome, students are fighting in the struggle against capitalism and against the Stalinist bureaucracy."

France is virtually under siege because the student protest has become a general strike.

Legislature Convenes in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller called on the Arkansas legislature today to come to grips with "the most politically sensitive problem presently facing us" and enact legislation to legalize mixed drinks.

"I am aware as you are that this is an election year," Rockefeller told a joint session of the House and Senate as the General Assembly convened. "But I am also convinced that the people want this matter resolved and now."

Rockefeller revealed in his speech for the first time that his proposed cigarette tax increase will be 3 cents per pack, which, he said, would produce about $5 million a year in new revenue.

He said that the total new revenue from all of his tax proposals would be from $8 million to $10 million a year.

Rockefeller noted that the call will permit the legislature either to legalize or outlaw mixed drinks. "I have made my position clear," he said. "The decision is now yours."

Rockefeller also called on legislators to approve a $1.8 million funding package for the state prison system and to change the date for a vote on

Many See Compromise on Bombing

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam peace negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance called on South Vietnam's observer here today for a 45-minute review of the talks thus far.

Harriman told newsmen as he left the South Vietnamese consulate that he and Bui Dientj, who is South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, had agreed "the affirmative position taken by the United States delegation in the talks was the correct one, rather than getting involved in the propaganda exercise which has characterized the Hanoi approach."

When he arrived at the South Vietnamese consulate, Harriman told newsmen he wanted to "get some information from the South Vietnamese delegation and to keep them fully informed. We want to get their point of view and judgment."

Knowledgeable American and French diplomats believe a compromise way will be found to end the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, reduce North Vietnamese infiltration into the South and move to full-scale peace negotiations.

The expectation of a compromise agreement rests on the belief that the final purpose of both sides is to make peace.

That remains to be proved. One main purpose of the United States and North Vietnam in the talks to date has been to find out what the other's real expectation is. A second obviously is to make propaganda, and presumably a third is to put bargaining positions on the table.

Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy began their second week of "official conversations" today with no meeting scheduled until Wednesday. Meanwhile the exchanges continue at long range.

North Vietnam's Deputy Foreign Minister Hoang Van Lol said in Damascus: "Strong and deadly blows must be dealt to American troops in Vietnam to force United States negotiators to listen to reason in Paris. Without more military victories against the Americans on the battlefield, the Paris peace talks are doomed to failure."

Oswald: "In the Jacoby method, the two club response to one no-trump is Stayman and covers many major suit holdings and the strong hand with one major suit. The two diamond response is a transfer to hearts; the two heart response a transfer to spades; the two spade response a special bid to show both minor suits; three heart and three spade responses are certain strong major suit hands, while three diamonds and three clubs cover hands such as today's North holding."

Jim: "North has six high card points and a reasonably good six card diamond suit. He wants to be in three no-trump if his partner holds good diamonds and a good no-trump. Otherwise he wants to play the hand for a diamond part score. His three diamond bid shows this exactly."

Oswald: "South has only 16 points but he has good diamonds, and the other three aces. He is delighted to try for three no-trump."

Jim: "The combination of the spade lead and the good diamond break allows South to make an overtrick at three no-trump. He simply wins the first spade, runs six diamonds and leads a spade from dummy to establish the 10 of spades as a 10th trick."

Oswald: "If North had a poorer hand with six diamonds he would have passed one no-trump and only gone to diamonds if his partner were doubled. With a slightly better hand, such as six diamonds headed by ace-queen-jack North would have bid three no-trump, after the no-trump opening."

Jim: "Finally, if North held a really strong hand with one minor suit he would respond two clubs (Stayman) and follow up by bidding his minor suit."

Oswald: "This bid would alert partner that there might be a slam. Whether the slam bid would depend on both hands."

THE WELL CHILD Little Leaguer's Elbow Has a Gradual Onset

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Little Leaguer's elbow, an injury that has been recognized for many years, is still with us. The onset is gradual. The condition develops only in the throwing arm and so is seen chiefly in pitchers, especially those who are 13 or 14 years old. A separation of a fragment of the cartilage of the elbow or a chip fracture is the underlying cause of the trouble.

The best treatment is prevention. This requires making sure that the players report promptly any pain or soreness that develops in an elbow, discouraging pitching practice in boys under 18, discouraging attempts to throw curve balls by boys in this age group, restricting pitchers to two innings per game and shortening the playing season. Any boy who develops a sore elbow should be benched for the rest of that season.

Q—My daughter, 2½, has a congenital heart defect called coronary artery anomaly. She appears to be healthy and is very active. How serious is this condition?

A—The severity of congenital heart defects varies widely. If a child with an abnormal coronary artery survives her first year of life the chances are that the defect is very mild or that compensation has taken place through other arteries taking over the function of the abnormal one. Since you mentioned no symptoms I assume that the defect was discovered as an incidental finding when she was being examined for some other condition.

Q—Our daughter, 2½, gets frequent styes. How can we prevent them? Will she outgrow them?

A—If your daughter rubs her eyes, which is quite likely, she may spread staphylococci from one eye to the other or from her nose to her eyes. Hot applications help to bring a sty to a head, then you should have your doctor lance it and drain it. Yellow oxide of mercury ointment placed on the lids will help to prevent further infection. 'Laugh-in' Takes Three Emmy Awards

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was "sock it to me" time at the Television Academy as three Emmy awards were given to the raucous "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in."

The NBC show, a mad rock-et-gun combination of outrageous gags and blackouts, won the award as best musical or variety series, and special. Laugh-in was presented as a special before taking to the air as a series in midseason.

The show's platoon of writers won Emmies for best variety writing.

In the other major categories, the awards Sunday night had the look of a rerun. Repeat winners included: Lucille Ball, best actress-star in a comedy series; Don Adams of "Get Smart," best actor-star in a comedy series; Barbara Bain of "Mission: Impossible," best actress-star in a dramatic series; Bill Cosby of "I Spy," best actor-star in a dramatic series; "Mission: Impossible," outstanding dramatic series.

Other awards went to Maureen Stapleton, best actress in a single dramatic role, for "Among the Paths to Eden"; Melvyn Douglas, best actor in a single dramatic role, for "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night"; best single dramatic program, "Elizabeth the Queen," Hallmark Hall of Fame; best comedy series, "Get Smart"; best supporting actress in a drama, Barbara Anderson, "Ironside"; best supporting actor in a comedy, Werner Klemperer, "Hogan's Heroes"; outstanding writing in drama, Loring Mandel, "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night."

Two of the supporting Emmies brought a sentimental reaction. The award for best supporting actress in a comedy went to Marion Lorne, the flutery witch of "Bewitched." She died two weeks ago at age 82.

Milburn Stone, the "Doc" of the long-running "Gunsmoke," won heavy applause as best supporting actor in a drama.

Two second bananas who approach stardom were cited for "outstanding individual achievement": Art Carney of "The Jackie Gleason Show" and Pat Paulsen of "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour."

In contrast to the over-length Oscar show, the Emmy telecast ran an hour and 45 minutes. But the awards were deadeningly profuse; there were 52 categories, and 10 writers claimed their Emmies for "Laugh-in." The show itself proved an embarrassment to the television clan. The proceedings in New York often dissolved into chaos, with master of ceremonies Dick Van Dyke struggling to keep order.

N. Vietnam Shipping Has Dropped

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shipping into North Vietnamese ports dropped slightly during the first month after President Johnson invoked a limited ban on U.S. bombing.

Intelligence figures list 39 ship arrivals in North Vietnamese ports during April, 4 fewer than in March.

Johnson on March 31 exempted from U.S. bombing most of North Vietnam's territory, including the main port area of Haiphong and lesser ports of Cam Pha and Hon Gai. Some authorities expected shipping traffic to North Vietnam to increase as a result.

They felt North Vietnam's freedom to move supplies away over repaired roads, bridges and ferries without fear of U.S. air attack would have eased serious congestion of the ports.

But authorities with access to reconnaissance photographs and other intelligence information disputed reports that the shipping flow to North Vietnam was blossoming.

In addition to reporting the decrease in ship arrivals, they said there has been no significant rise in the number of vessels bound for North Vietnam. The United States has means of monitoring shipping from Vladivostok, Hong Kong, through the Dardenelles and other places traveled by North Vietnam-bound vessels.

U.S. officials whose job is watching the flow of shipping to North Vietnam speculate one reason the traffic hasn't increased is that the Haiphong port, in particular, is operating at maximum capacity. They say dredging apparently has not yet cleared away enough silt to permit a larger number of seagoing ships into the harbor.

The Communists turned to smaller vessels earlier this year because silt was choking channels and waterways leading into the country's biggest port.

Says Skeletons From Pauper's Cemetery

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— Arkansas State Police investigators have concluded that the three human skeletons unearthed at a state prison farm in January came from a pauper's cemetery, not from unmarked graves for murdered inmates as some had charged.

The conclusion in the report, released Saturday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, was expressed by Maj. Bill Struebeling, who led the investigation, on Jan. 30, one day after the skeletons were exhumed from an open pasture at Cummins Prison Farm about 70 miles southeast of Little Rock.

At that time Struebeling told newsmen he believed the burial ground was an old prison cemetery and when asked, "do you really believe that?" replied, "Yes, I do."

The 680-page report, which Rockefeller has had for about two months, contained numerous interviews with present and former inmates who claimed to have knowledge of murders at the prison between 1930 and 1960.

Many of the names in the report, primarily those who allegedly killed someone, were blotted out by the governor's office.

Some of the alleged murdered convicts are identified only by such names as "Red Light, Paragould, String Bean, Red Rooster, Surf, Monkey Face, Peter Pitcher, Blue, Daddy, Airplane and Hickory Nut."

The skeletons were removed from crude wooden boxes after Reuben Johnson, a Negro convict, took former prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton to the pasture and pointed to a spot where he said a Jake Jackson was buried.

One of the skeletons was Spock to Trial for Part in Draft Evasion

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others go on trial today in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to evade the draft.

The defendants, in addition to Spock, are William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, Yale University chaplain; Michael Ferber, 23, second-year graduate student at Harvard University; Mitchell Goodman, 44, New York author and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 33, co-director of the Institute for Political Studies in Washington.

At 65, Spock, the noted baby doctor, as well as the other defendants, could face up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine. They were indicted Jan. 5.

The indictment lists 11 acts which the government said were part of a nationwide program of resistance to the operations of the U.S. Selective Service System. The government charged that the acts were a violation of the Universal Military Training and Service Act, a pre-World War I law.

A defense spokesman said last week that the defense will maintain a position that what the government calls illegal acts were within the scope of legitimate protest, protected under the First Amendment of the Constitution.

Two of the acts listed by the government include a meeting at Boston's Arlington Street Church last Oct. 16 and a demonstration four days later outside the Pentagon in Washington.

At pretrial proceedings, Spock's attorney, Leonard Boudin, said, "the core of the indictment is the turning in of Selective Service cards at the Arlington Street Church Unitarian Universalist in Boston, and the turning in of these cards to the U.S. Justice Department."

"The question is whether it is a crime to take draft cards and to turn them in to the U.S. attorney general as a form of protest — that's what this case comes down to."

The defense spokesman said later, "We will maintain there is no criminal intent, no conspiracy, no effort to corrupt."

The defense originally tried to make the case into a far-reaching test of the legality of the Vietnam war and the constitutionality of the nation's draft laws.

However, Judge Francis J. W. Ford, who at 85 is one of the nation's senior jurists, greatly narrowed the issues by saying there would be no test of the draft laws at the trial. He also declared, "the legality of the Vietnam war is not a relevant issue in this case."

Spock has become internationally known as a leading anti-war, antidraft demonstrator.

found at the spot and Murton had a crew of inmates dig for the other two at indentions in the ground nearby. Three holes were dug and three skeletons found.

Johnson claimed he helped bury Jackson, who he said was murdered. He also identified another skeleton as Rev. Butler.

State Police said, however, that the skeletons did not conform to descriptions of the two men and added that there was "substantial evidence" that Jackson and Butler "actually escaped from the pen."

Poor March Leaders Map Strategy

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Eager volunteers working late into the night helped the Poor People's Campaign more than double the size of its "Resurrection City, U.S.A." over the weekend, setting the stage for possible major demonstrations early this week.
With more than half the projected 3,000 residents now housed in their West Potomac Park quarters, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has for the first time a sizeable nucleus of demonstrators on which to draw.
The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, SCLC president, is to huddle with his staff today for a strategy meeting that could well last until nightfall. Exactly when and where to demonstrate is one of the topics on their agenda.

Only sudden rain squalls prevented organization of a previously announced march around the Capitol Sunday afternoon, said the Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of SCLC.

The 36-year-old minister told newsmen he felt the week-old campaign is doing "extremely well" so far, "stirring the conscience of America... America is talking about poverty as never before."

Negro and white volunteers had pushed construction of the tent-shaped plywood huts that make up most of the city about half-way down the mile-long stretch from the Lincoln Memorial to the Washington Monument by Sunday night.

Neither a scorching hot morning sun nor the afternoon's blustery rains kept busloads of new arrivals from pouring into the shanty city with their battered suitcases, bedrolls and blankets.

Most had been part of two large groups, the 1,000-man Midwestern caravan which arrived Saturday night and was housed in the District of Columbia Coliseum, and the 825-man Northeastern caravan housed for two days in suburban Maryland churches.

Many campaigners had to slog their way through thick mud left by a series of afternoon downpours. But the high spirits of most appeared undamaged.

The last major contingent due until Thursday, 400 persons who left Mississippi two weeks ago, arrived late Sunday night and settled down in the capital's Northern Virginia suburbs to await space in "Resurrection City."

A spokesman said the campaigners were put up in 15 churches after covering the last 90 miles from Richmond, Va., in nine buses.

Campaign leaders said little over the weekend about the shortage of funds they reported late in the first week. Other officials said the Rev. Bernard Lafayette, campaign coordinator, was mistaken when he told a news conference $3 million was needed just to complete construction of the city.
Although the camp was close to filling its 15-acre allotted site by Sunday night, piles of unused lumber still dotted vacant areas of camp.
Several campaign contingents are still on the road from the Midwest, and officials expect a total of 5,000 once everyone has arrived by the May 24

Wants Quicker Action on Constitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Raymond Rebsamen of Little Rock, chairman of Arkansas for a Revised Constitution, said Sunday that many voters will have forgotten the major issues of a new constitution if the vote on a new document is delayed until 1970.
Voters will decide in November whether to call a constitutional convention. If the convention is approved the vote on a new constitution, if one is proposed, would be in 1970.

Rebsamen's organization favors a vote on the constitution in 1969.
"The voters of Arkansas should decide on a new constitution at a time when the issues are fresh on their minds," Rebsamen said.

Al Capp Is Excited With His Dogpatch

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Cartoonist Al Capp came to Dogpatch U.S.A. Saturday to the tune of "Jubilation T. Cornpone" and declared that "you don't meet a nicer batch of people than here in the real Dogpatch."
Capp, who created the comic strip, "Li'l Abner," which features the antics of dwellers in a fictional Dogpatch, dedicated the theme park seven miles south of here by heaping praise

Monday, May 20, 1968
on what he called "the greatest urban renewal project I've ever seen."
"The attitude of the people is something you can't touch," said Capp, who lives in Boston. "They made it all come true."
"It is terribly exciting to see everything suddenly arrive real after just being a little sketch on paper," Capp said.
"It's every kid's dream to own his own amusement park and here it is."
Capp and 15 Harrison businessmen are stockholders in the park which is about 50 per cent completed.
